11:10 am – 12:00 pm Second Series of Workshops

Workshop #5: AJ Sheehan and Josh Lawson, MVP Law

Topic: McAllister: A Closer Look at the Supreme Court's 2020 Decision & Its Impact

MVP Law workers' compensation defense attorneys will discuss the McAllister case facts, reasoning, analysis, etc. for accidents "arising out of" employment.

They will discuss how the court's decision changed the prior standard for compensable accidents and about the impact expected on future cases. Then, several post-McAllister cases will be examined, including the facts, issues arising out of employment, and why the courts/Commission held that way. Finally, they will address the true impact of the McAllister case and if it's made as big of an impact as initially expected.

Workshop #6: Sue Baxter-Pfederer RN, CCM, Triune Health Group

Topic: Dialing Down Costs: The Impact of Telephonic Nurse Triage in Workers' Comp

Telephonic Nurse Triage can help ensure employees get the right care, if needed, decrease costs, lower your e-mod rate, prevent fraud, and streamline your incident reporting process. It also ensures continuity across incidents and provides an ethical approach to incident reporting.

Workshop #7: Tom Stanley, M.D., OrthoIllinois

Topic: Determining the Source of Pain: Neck Vs. Shoulder

Does an aching shoulder really signal a shoulder injury? Does a sore neck really signal a neck injury? Dr. Tom Stanley, Orthopedic Spine Surgeon at OrthoIllinois, will lead an in-depth presentation diving into the intricacies of the relationship between the neck and shoulder, how to tell the difference between a shoulder injury versus a neck injury, and treatment options for each.
